7. From the left menu click "Devices"

8. Now you should see a section that will allow you to add your own tracker. Click "Connect" for the type of tracker that you have. For example, I have a Garmin so I would click on "Garmin Connect".

9. Once you click on the “Connect” for your tracker you will be redirected to login to your tracker account (ie. Fitbit, Garmin, etc). You will then be prompted to authorize HealthSpective to gain access to your tracker information. Below is an example for my Garmin.

Do you authorize the HealthSpective app to access your Garmin Connect account and data?

Garmin takes your privacy very seriously. We encourage you to read the HealthSpective privacy policy before you decide whether to give them access to your Garmin Connect data.
